TABLET FOR OUR BOYS IN THE WAR

The Industrial Workers of Kingston Will Collect Fund to Pay For Its Erection on City Hall Grounds—Organizing Committee Appointed. Temporary Chairman Thomas P. Kelly of the Local Plumbers' Union No. 223, presided at the meeting of the industrial workers of the city held at the city hall Friday evening to consider Mayor Canfield's suggestion that the industrial workers of Kingston collect a fund to pay for the erection of a tablet containing the names of our boys in the world war which is to be erected on the city hall grounds as a permanent memorial to the memory of those boys who are fighting to free the world from oppression by the Hun.

Mayor Canfield, who was present at the meeting, had with him a water color picture of a proposed tablet, which met with the approval of those present. A cut of this proposed tablet will be found on the back page of Friday's Freeman. The cost of erecting a tablet such as proposed would depend entirely upon the size desired and the material used. A worthy memorial to our boys would cost at least $2,500 to $3,000 or more.

After considerable discussion, what is to be known as an organizing committee, was appointed. This committee when completed will be made up of a representative from every industrial plant in Kingston which wishes to contribute to this tablet. At the meeting Friday only those present were made members of the committee. The only industrial organization that had sent a fully qualified representative to the session was the Plumbers' Union, who are heartily in favor of the project.

It was brought out that there was no question that every one of the 5,000 industrial workers would gladly contribute to this fund as the great majority of our boys in the service were industrial workers before being called to fight for home and country. Between now and next Friday, September 6, to which time the session was adjourned, the employees of every industrial plant will be seen if possible and asked if they care to take part in raising the fund, and if they do to appoint one or more representatives to be present at the adjourned meeting when final plans for the campaign will be made and a permanent organization perfected.

This organizing committee appointed at the session Friday comprised Joseph Disch of the Charles Ramsey Company, Michael Buboltz of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation, William F. Tierney and George W. Moore of the Palen plant; Thomas P. Kelly, of the Plumbers' Union, Michael J. Dunne, of the Nitro Powder Company, August Spruck, of the New Columbia shirt factory, Herbert T. Van Deusen, of Canfield Supply Company, Frank Richardson, of the lace mills, Fred Scheffel, of Brown & Dressel, Fred Reinhardt, of the Brewery Union, William C. Millham, of the car shops of the West Shore, and Frank Strobel, of the Central Trade and Labor Council.

This committee will not only take up the matter at the industrial plants where they are engaged, but agreed at the session to visit surrounding plants and take the matter up with the idea of enlarging this committee to embrace a representative from every industrial plant in the city. While all of the committee, so far, is composed of men, an effort will be made to have women appointed as representatives, as many of the industrial plants employ more women than men.

With the fourth Liberty loan drive slated for the latter part of next month, every effort will be used to have the fund for this huge tablet collected before the drive starts. The earlier the tablet is secured and unveiled the better it will be. Kingston every month is sending away contingents of her boys to serve the nation in the world war, and it is no more than right that they should know that the industrial workers of the city appreciate the sacrifices they are making to preserve our nation and the world from Hun domination by doing what they can in a small way to perpetuate their names to future generations by having them placed on this hero tablet.

The larger the fund secured, the more elaborate the tablet will be and the industrial workers in the city, who have never fallen down on any project yet, will undoubtedly go way over the top in this hero tablet drive which will be shortly inaugurated.

IN HOSPITAL WITH FRACTURED HIP

Woman Teacher of School No. 7 Sustained Injuries, In Unexplained Manner While Crossing Wall Street.

Mary M. Tolley, teacher in the primary department of School No. 7, was injured Friday about 5 p. m., while crossing Wall street, near or at its junction with North Front street. Miss Tolley, who having taught school in the city a number of years is widely known and has many friends, was apparently dazed. She does not know, she said, how she was injured. When carried to her residence, 159 Green street, in a cab assisted by young Sam Bernstein and Charley Davis, she was conscious and attempted to explain to her housekeeper, Mrs. E. J. Van Tassel. She said that for a moment she stopped and looked anxiously across the corners and up and down the street. She saw no car and stepped out to cross. She was headed from the west side of Wall street at the Bernstein clothing store towards the opposite side.

When she had stepped from the walk, she told Mrs. Van Tassel, she saw a boy approaching from North Front street on a bicycle. She stopped back quickly and fell. She didn't know that anything had hit her. She saw no motorcycle. She saw the boy fall off his bicycle. That is as much as she could tell of the accident.

Sam Bernstein, Jr., who happened along when she was being picked up from the pavement but who says he doesn't know who picked her up, said: "I don't think Miss Tolley was hit by anything. I think she simply fell in such a way as to hurt herself. There was no motorcycle around there at the time. A young boy came along on a wheel. He was frightened himself. I don't think he hit her. Although I didn't see how it happened. I helped Charley Davis take her home in a car." The only one Mr. Bernstein named who was on the spot was Patrick Murphy, the insurance man.

Miss Tolley was taken to the Kingston City Hospital where Dr. Sibley said there was a fracture of a hip and a bruised arm.

Grant's Auto Hit Trolley.

Early Friday evening an automobile driven by R. A. Grant, the Prospect street milkman, ran into a trolley car at the corner of Franklin street and Clinton avenue. In the car was a young man named Stephen Grant of Franklin street. The jar of the collision threw the boy forward and he struck his nose against the windshield of the auto, causing it to bleed freely. This morning his nose was somewhat swollen. The auto was slightly damaged, but the trolley sustained little if any damage. Fortunately Mr. Grant when he saw the trolley slowed down, and it is presumed his brakes did not hold enough to prevent the collision.

AMERICANS CLOSE IN ON JUVIGNY

By Telegraph to The Freeman. With The American Army On The Aisne-Vesle Front, Aug. 30.—(Night)—American troops late today stormed Chavigny, on the French right, and succeeded in opening up the road through Bois de Couronne which exposes Juvigny to American attack from three sides.

Air observers report there is every evidence that the enemy is preparing to retreat following his defeat between the Ailette and the Aisne, in spite of the fact that twelve fresh German divisions were rushed up to oppose the Franco-American forces.

Before the Americans launched their drive this afternoon there had been no infantry activity since yesterday when the Germans were cut to pieces in five massed attacks. The enemy debouched from Bois de Couronne with orders to fight to the death. Five times the gray waves rolled en masse toward the American positions. Every attack was bloodily repulsed by American artillery, machine gunners, infantry and tanks.

Two new German divisions have been identified directly in front of the American unit. The Seventh Prussian Guards already had been thrown in to support the original opponents of the Americans.

Part of the Prussian reinforcements were concentrated around Juvigny. Others were massed about Chavigny. American patrols captured a number of the former after the bitterest hand to hand fighting. From Chavigny the Prussian machine gunners enfiladed the American positions and swept them with a withering fire until the American field batteries turned upon the enemy and smothered him.

German aeroplanes have been very active over the American positions. They succeeded in setting two observation balloons afire, but both of the observers escaped by descending in parachutes.

American officers and men are loud in their praise of the new model light tanks with which the French have been assisting their operations. These tanks helped the Americans greatly in sweeping over Von Boehm's elaborately constructed advance trench system between Chavigny and Juvigny, along the Juvigny plateau.

The Germans tried in vain to check these tanks with their newest antitank rifles, a powerful gun which penetrates thirteen-sixteenths of an inch of steel at 220 yards. Two of these tanks caught fire during the fighting yesterday and the crews were rescued by khaki-clad Americans who were advancing in conjunction with them.

In capturing the Chavigny-Juvigny narrow gauge railway line, the Americans were forced to sprint across three hundred yards of bare, open plateau which was raked by the fire of the enemy. After this heroic dash they occupied a small embankment only ten feet from the Germans who were on the other side.

Both the Germans and Americans hurled hand grenades over the embankment until the Germans were driven back by enfilading machine gun fire.

German patrols are active on the Vesle front. In the vicinity of Fismes, several patrols were driven back by the Americans and two were captured near Bazoches.

Madrid, Aug. 30.—(Night)—The Spanish cabinet went into session at 5 o'clock this afternoon to consider the situation growing out of the torpedoing of Spanish ships by German submarines. Premier Dato cautioned correspondents just before the meeting that the situation calls for extreme calmness and unity. Spain's interests must be held above those of all the belligerents, he declared.

London, Aug. 31.—The German-Spanish situation is critical, according to a dispatch from Madrid early today. Premier Dato was reported to have been closeted with the American charge d'affaires for several hours.

Militarism and Polygamy.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 31.—"The people of France and Belgium think of Germany as the scourge of the world and of America as the savior of civilization," said Frank J. Cannon, former United States senator from Utah in his address before the Christian citizenship conference at Winona assembly. "Salon has been two devils on the world," he added. "The first is the devil of militarism, which has taken 25,000,000 of the young men of the world and set them to killing one another. The other is the devil of polygamy. Germany has declared that all womenhood is to be used to produce more men to be murdered in the slaughterhouse of the future wars. If the devil had only one blow to strike it would be aimed at the family. Germany has instituted polygamy by the wholesale. She is raising children for a new army."

BRITISH SURROUNDING PERONNE; KEMMEL TAKEN

Germans Being Forced Back Despite Stubborn Resistance—French Threaten Teuton Left-Americans Continue To Show Bravery.

British forces today continued to smash eastward from Clercy-sur-Somme in the concerted movement to surround Peronne which is hourly becoming more untenable for the enemy. Australian troops, which are driving forward in this region, have taken numerous enemy positions, prisoners, and machine guns and have succeeded in bringing the battle line into closer alignment with the British front south of Peronne.

The British also are continuing their efforts in the face of most stubborn resistance, to roll back the northern end of the enemy line in the vicinity of the Arras-Cambrai road. Success in this movement means either the flanking or forcing back of the enemy forces from the Bullecourt pivot, about which bloody battles raged in 1917.

The British official report tells of the capture of an important strong point, St. Servin's farm, and of the village of Eternepigny, just north of the Arras-Cambrai road, and on the east bank of the Sensee river. This success, in a war, recompenses them for the ground they were forced to give yesterday in the vicinity of Bullecourt and Hendecourt.

The British are giving the Germans no rest, but are bringing pressure to bear on a wide front. This is proven by the official news from the Lys front in Flanders where the British have advanced to Daicourt.

American officers and men are revealing the fact that they have shown conspicuous bravery. On one occasion they shattered five massed German attacks, literally blowing to pieces the waves of gray-clad Prussians.

18 TO 45 MEN WILL REGISTER SEPT. 12th

President Today Signed New Man Power Bill and Issued Proclamation Which Will Bring Millions to Colors.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Aug. 31.—Thursday, September 12, was today set by proclamation of President Wilson, as the date upon which America's manhood between the ages of 18 and 45 will register under the man power bill. The proclamation was issued simultaneously with the signing of the bill, which is designed, through the extension of the draft ages, to make possible an army of 4,000,000 men in France by midsummer of next year. The bill, which passed its final legislative stage yesterday, when the senate agreed to the conference report, was signed today by the presiding officers of the house and senate, and then sent to the White House for the president's signature. The proclamation setting the registration day, which had been prepared in advance, was then made public.

DRAFT PARADES TO BE BANNED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Parades and big "send-off" celebrations for honor men leaving their homes for service in the national army will be banned hereafter, according to instructions contained in a letter sent from the adjutant general's office to city officials and all local draft boards. This action is taken because of the danger to crowds at the National.

Under Sugar Ban.

That there are at least 25 sugar mills in Newburgh who have duplicate sugar cards for August was the outstanding feature of the first day of the distribution of sugar ration cards for the remainder of the year. The offenders will be punished by the refusal of the food administration to grant them any sugar until January 1.

EXPERT LANDSCAPE WORK IS EXPENSIVE

Would Cost Nearly $900 to Beautify Trees and Lawns on Grounds of Public Schools—School District 8 Owes Tuition Money—Board of Education Meets.

At a regular meeting of the board of education held Friday night a communication was received from the Kingston Landscape, Forestry, Horticultural and Agricultural Company, stating that the company would put the trees and lawns on the public school grounds in first class condition for $895.00. The communication was placed on file after the remark was made that "the name of the firm was about as large as the sum wanted for the work."

Trustee Van Wagoner offered for payment general vouchers, total of $11,687.94, and the payroll for August amounting to $1,310.51. Warrants were ordered drawn for same. Superintendent Michael was asked to notify Trustee Walker of school District 8 of the town of Ulster that the balance of $373.02, on account of tuition incurred during the school year ending July 31, 1917, is still due. This matter was brought up at the last meeting of the board and a resolution was passed which stated in substance that this balance must be paid before the opening of the schools in September. If school district 8 wished to continue sending their children to attend the public schools of Kingston.

Excepting a few routine matters no other business was transacted by the board Friday evening. The meeting was short.

PATRIOTIC MEETING

To be Held September 16 by the Knights of Pythias.

Under the direction of Franklin Lodge, No. 47, K. of P., a patriotic meeting will be held in the lodge rooms on Wall street on the evening of September 16. Poulter Niglow, the widely known author, will speak on "The Hun at Home." Another feature of the meeting will be the display of picture slides of the members of the order and their relatives who are in the war service.

Manumitted voters should vote at the Primary Election next Tuesday. Polls open from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m.

REGISTRATION COST

Per Capita and Standing of Ulster's Local Boards.

By Telegraph to The Freeman Albany, N. Y., Aug. 31.—The average cost of registering 1,029,226 New York state men for the federal draft and inducting 167,643 of them into the National Army by June 30, 1918, was $1.42, according to figures transmitted to Governor Whitman today by Major F. S. Hutchinson, disbursing officer and agent of the United States in the state of New York, who is in charge of the Selective Service Bureau of Adjutant General Sherrill's office.

In the city of New Rochelle the cost of induction to the government was nothing, the city appropriating money to defray expenses of the draft board. Governor Whitman sent a letter to the mayor of the city and the chairman of the board, saying:

"I congratulate and thank you and through you the officials and citizens of our city, on this remarkable record which may well be an example to other communities in the state."

In other places the induction cost per capita ran from twelve cents a man by Board 164 of New York city to $2.58 a man by Board 161 of New York city.

Ulster 1.—Per capita, $.98; county standing, 36; state standing, 90.
Ulster 2.—Per capita, $ 1.15; county standing, 50; state standing, 126.

STATE SCHOOL

At Delhi Offer Attractive Course for Coming Season.

The booklet of announcements for the coming year at the State School of Agriculture and Domestic Science at Delhi is now available.

The course has been changed to become intensely practical. It is the intention of the school to allow the student to apply the things in school which he already knows from his home life and to return to the home with ideas which he can apply in his every day business.

The course at the school is from October to April, the balance of the year being spent upon the farm putting into practice the lessons learned in the school. A carefully outlined project must be carried on during the summer. This may consist in keeping dairy records, keeping data on crops caring for an orchard, raising poultry or doing many things associated with successful farming.

The work with animals will be done in a steam heated recitation room at the barn where stock will be brought into the room for study. In all other ways the equipment of the school will enable the student to apply the knowledge learned.

Good common school education is given at the same time that the student is acquiring technical knowledge. Tuition at the school is free.

Another Betty Green.

By Telegraph to The Freeman, Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 31.—Celebrating her ninety-fifth birthday and observing her annual custom, Mrs. Elizabeth Haynes, often referred to by the folk in this section of the state as another "Betty Green," went to the city hall here and paid more than $2,000 in taxes. Mrs. Haynes owns much property in Knoxville, including buildings in the business district. She recently supervised the erection of a number of buildings and it is said that she has been seen in her younger days carrying brick.

Dance at Kingston Point.

The Kingston Point dancing Casino will close the season on Labor Day with a grand ball in the afternoon, starting at 1:30, and another dance in the evening, beginning at 7:30. Under the able management of Mr. Miller, the Casino has enjoyed its most successful season and Mr. Miller has made arrangements to take over the Casino again next year. This evening the usual Saturday night dance will be held. Miller's orchestra will furnish the music for both this evening and Labor Day.

DO YOU WANT THIS KIND OF MAN A JUSTICE OF THE SUPREME COURT?

George Addington is a candidate for the Republican nomination for justice of the Supreme Court in the third judicial district, made up of the counties of Albany, Rensselaer, Columbia, Schoharie, Greene, Ulster and Sullivan.

Mr. Addington has mailed to the enrolled voters of the Republican party of the district, women and men, a four-page pamphlet. On the first page is his picture—on the last page he prints what purports to be an editorial from The Knickerbocker Press of July 2, 1918.

STALEY FOR SURROGATE.

Ellis J. Staley has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for surrogate of Albany county. This means that Mr. Staley will be nominated at the September primaries and elected in November.

Ellis J. Staley is entitled to the nomination on the Republican ticket. He is entitled to an election. His past record leads us to predict that he will be one of the best surrogates ever holding that important office in Albany county.

There is no more important office than the office of surrogate. It comes closer to the home and fireside than any other judicial office.

An ideal surrogate must be learned in the law and he must be a real human being. The milk of human kindness must be in his heart.

We congratulate the people of Albany county upon the fact that Ellis J. Staley is to be the next surrogate.

Mr. Justice Chester retires from the supreme court on the 31st day of December because of the constitutional age limit. Who is to be his successor? County Judge Addington is a candidate and is undoubtedly the choice of the people of the district, but he is awaiting the O. K. of William Barnes, who in these days occasionally visits Albany. Surrogate Vanderveer is also a receptive candidate and is hoping that Barnes' decision may favor him.

The Knickerbocker Press has no particular admiration for this method of choosing a supreme court judge. If this method is to be followed, a Democratic lawyer of supreme court calibre might appeal to the people of this judicial district with fair prospects of success.

George Addington has, for his own political purposes, deliberately misrepresented to the people The Knickerbocker Press. We have seen crooked politicians quote a paragraph from an editorial to serve their purposes. We cannot recall a case where even a crooked politician has ever quoted a single sentence to serve his purposes.

But George Addington is the first man to quote a part of a sentence for the purpose of misleading and fooling the voters to whom he is appealing for votes.

He is the first man within our knowledge who has deliberately attempted to destroy the good name and reputation of a newspaper for the purpose of serving and promoting his selfish ends.

The Knickerbocker Press has called upon Mr. Addington to apologize to the voters and to The Knickerbocker Press. He has done neither.

Mr. Addington in this case has been untruthful—he has been guilty of misrepresentation and wilful deceit.

Dated, Albany, August 26, 1918.

Stone Walls and Firing Squads

FROM EDITORIAL OF ONE OF SCHOENECK'S HOME PAPERS THE "SYRACUSE JOURNAL": "Syracuse is not tolerating these days seditious persons. When our boys are marching off to war by the hundreds, while they are sailing on the pirate-infested seas, while they are toiling and striving in behalf of liberty on bloody fields of battle in foreign lands, Syracuse is going to back them to the limit. The man who is guilty of sedition, the man who in any way gives aid and comfort to the enemy, while walking our streets deserves no sympathy at the hands of the people of our community. NEITHER DOES ANY MAN DESERVE SYMPATHY WHO KNOWING ANOTHER MAN TO BE SEDITIOUS ATTEMPTS TO USE INFLUENCE OF ANY SORT, OR WHO IN ANY WISE, AIDS AND ABETS THE CULPRIT TO ESCAPE HIS JUST DESERTS. The day of firing squads does not seem to have arrived in this country yet, but the war grows more serious day by day and there are many convenient stone walls and the firing squads can be secured on short notice. It is not the province of a newspaper to reveal the secrets of the Grand Jury, but it really is too bad that it is possible to tell the inside story of the first Federal Grand Jury that handled the Tolishus case."

SHERIFF'S SALE.

COUNTY OF ULSTER.—By virtue of an execution issued out of the County Supreme Court of the State of New York, to me directed and delivered, against the goods and chattels, real property, lands and tenements of SKYTOP CORPORATION, I shall offer and expose for sale, as the law directs, on the 7th day of October, 1918, at 10:00 o'clock in the forenoon of that day, at the Court House in the City of Kingston, Ulster county, New York, the following described real property:

ALL THAT TRACT OR PARCEL OF LAND, situated in the town of Ulster county, and State of New York and distinguished on a map of corporation lands of the County of Kingston, by Lot No. 21, in the Grove Class and bounded as follows: Beginning at a stake and stones marked 15-21-61-73 standing in the south bounds of the Binewater Class and in the northeast corner of Lot No. 15; thence running along the same south 24 degrees west 14 chains 8 links to a stake and stones marked 14-15-21-20; thence along Lot No. 20 south 86 degrees east 21 chains 60 links to a stake marked 20-21-27-23; thence along Lot No. 28 north 24 degrees east 14 chains 8 links to a stake marked 21-28-75-82; thence north 68 degrees west 21 chains 95 links to the place of beginning, containing 20 1/2 acres of land, the same more or less, with the reservation of a road to the place of beginning of the Town of Kingston, as contained in the corporation deed of the said lot.

ALSO all that other piece or parcel of land contained and described in a deed made by William Van Aken and wife of the Town of Kingston to Philip R. Vredenburg, said to contain 15 acres of land more or less, said deed being recorded in the office of the Clerk of Ulster county, in Book No. 64 of Deeds at page 633, on January 28th, 1840, to which deed or the record thereof reference is hereby made for a more particular description.

ALSO all that other piece or parcel of land described in a deed made the 1st day of July, 1840, by Ann Stieles, as executrix etc., of William Cockburn, deceased, to Philip Vredenburg, containing 15 acres of land, the same more or less, said deed being recorded in the office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster in Book No. 91 of Deeds at page 604, on January 2nd, 1856.

to which deed or the record thereof reference is hereby made for a more particular description.

ALSO all that other lot of land in the Town of Ulster, bounded as follows: North by the lands of Peter Lutz, east by a lot of land formerly in the possession of Jesse Hammond, deceased, south by lands of the Lockwood Brothers, west by the lands of Philip Vredenburg, containing 30 acres more or less. Being the same premises which were conveyed by Alice Taffey to one James C. Cleary by deed dated the 10th day of October, 1916, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office in Liber No. 458 of Deeds at page 393.

Being the same premises conveyed by James C. Cleary to Skytop Ranch Corporation by deed dated the 16th day of November, 1916, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's office on the 20th day of November, 1916, in Book No. 458 of Deeds at page 444.

Dated August 22nd, 1918.

RED CROSS BENEFIT AT ROSENDALE

Rosendale, Aug. 31.—Monday night's entertainment in St. Peter's Opera House, Rosendale, was a genuine success and will bring to the Red Cross fund, a good sum. Co-operating with Mrs. C. L. Hasbrouck, chairman, in making arrangements was the Rev. Edward J. Higgins, pastor of St. Peter's R. C. Church, who so cheerfully donated the hall and aided in every way, and the members of the Red Cross. Miss Devine, principal of the Rocks school at Rifton, accompanied by 20 young people, gave a most amusing play, entitled, "The Ladies' Aid Society at Mulberry Corners," which was recently given in Rifton, with success. It would be invidious, to single one of them out, for special praise, as all portrayed their parts well. Their singing and recitations, were well rendered. Mattman's orchestra offered their services free gratis for the good cause and played throughout the evening, also for dancing, which was highly appreciated. Mrs. Joseph Mooney and Miss Ruth House were heard in pleasing songs and heartily encored. Guests from the West cottage, with violin, mandolin and piano, gave several numbers, which were much appreciated. Also patriotic recitations by Helen Cramer and George Connors. Former Ambassador Gerard and Gen. Pershing's fine addresses on the viroloia were listened to with attention and applauded. Rev. Father Higgins donated a War Savings Certificate which netted a nice sum for the affair. A pleasing and instructive number was a monologue by Counselor Berger of Chicago, Ill., interpreting the various bugle calls, eliciting much applause. Refreshments and dancing with sociability and renewals of assurance that our boys are not forgotten and we at home extend all possible encouragement and cheer, at the present moment. To date over one hundred dollars have been realized and the members thank each and every person who so kindly assisted our local auxiliary in enabling them to continue the good work needed so much at the present time.

All-American Team Not Wanted by Soldiers in France.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Paris, Aug. 31.—The American Expeditionary Force in France does not want an All-American professional baseball team sent over from the United States, according to editorials in The Stars and Stripes, the publication which represents all of the units. The editorials recall the recent controversy between the major league magnates and Secretary of War Baker and expresses approval of the secretary's "righteous and prompt settlement thereof with a deserved rebuke."

"We could not accord a cordial reception to an All-American professional baseball team," declares Stars and Stripes. "The American Expeditionary Force has plenty of talent already here—in khaki."

To Be Ordained.

GOOD MEAT SUBSTITUTES.

The following are well-tried recipes gathered from many sources, which will be found worth while:

Pecan Loaf.—Three cups of boiled rice, one cup of each of cracker crumbs and chopped pecans, one-half cup of skim milk, the yolks of three eggs, grated onion, pepper and salt for seasoning. Mold in a small loaf and bake.

Tomato Nut Loaf.—Take one cupful each of chopped nut meat, cooked rice and tomato pulp, one egg, 1 1/2 teaspoonsful of salt, a half teaspoonful of pepper and a teaspoonful of chopped onion. Mix the ingredients, adding celery salt, or sage if desired. Shape into a loaf and bake 30 minutes.

Gnocchi.—Into one-fourth cupful of vegetable fat stir one-fourth cupful each of cornmeal and cornstarch, add a half teaspoonful of salt, and gradually two cups of scalded milk, stir constantly. Cook for three minutes, then cool slightly and add the well-beaten yolks of two eggs and one-fourth of a cupful of grated cheese. Then add the whites of two eggs beaten stiff. Put into a buttered baking dish and sprinkle with one-half cupful of grated cheese over the top. Bake carefully in a hot oven for 30 minutes.

Fish Loaf.—Take one cupful each of salmon, bread crumbs and hot milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, an eighth of a teaspoonful of pepper and two eggs. Rub the fish fine with a potato masher, add the milk to the crumbs and melted fat, and seasonings, then combine with the fish. Add the well-beaten eggs, put in a greased baking dish and bake or steam. Serve with a white sauce with the salmon liquor added to it if liked. Tomato sauce is also good served with this loaf. Peas in a sauce poured around the loaf are an addition which will add to the food value of the dish.

REPUBLICANS BEWARE!

THIS IS NOT THE TIME FOR THAT SORT OF PATRIOTISM WHICH HAS TO BE VOUCHERED FOR.

The voters are in no temper to support anyone who protects or befriends secession or one on whose garments there is even the smell of smoke. It has been apparent ever since the facts in the Tolishus case were so widely published that it was up to some one to provide the Republican voters with the opportunity of having another nominee. That was the very generally entertained opinion and it was concluded that the most available man, the one best qualified, widest known and most capable from all points of view was Senator Heacock. The party is to be congratulated that he has entered the race and there ought to be no doubt or question about his nomination by an overwhelming majority.—Utica Press Editorial.

JUST A SHORT SATURDAY "GAS TALK"

As you read the figures in last evening's "Freeman" and this morning's "Leader" you probably noticed that we spoke only of "interest" and not "dividends." Interest is the cost of borrowed money which must be paid in order that those who invest their money in the Company may leave the money in the Company property. You should not think that a Corporation or Holding Company is some big unknown thing which is ready to take everything it can and give nothing in return. A Corporation gets its money from individuals who on the purchase of stock become stockholders. Some may only own $50.00 worth of stock while others may own several thousand dollars worth of stock. Probably three-fourths of the people who read this article today are stockholders in some Corporation or Company or Building and Loan Association.

A Corporation is nothing more than a legalized method of arranging for the co-operation of a number of people in a business undertaking. The ownership of a large Gas or Electric Company is usually vested in a Corporation because the resources required may be beyond the reach of any one man or small group of men and when you begin to draw upon groups of men the necessity of properly and conveniently dividing interests and limiting liability makes a Corporation a necessity. Further, a Corporation outlives any one man or group of men. It continues its business beyond the lives of men who were active in it 20 years ago or today.

Do you realize that a great many of the stores on Wall Street are Corporations as well as a great many on the Strand and upper and lower Broadway? The Drug Store you deal with, the Lunch Room you eat in, the Grocery Store and Bakery you patronize are probably Corporations. Such being the case, just ask yourself if a Corporation is such a formidable thing?

You may have thought that the interest charges per thousand feet shown yesterday were high. What follows in this article will explain why they seem to be high.

A Gas and Electric Utility requires a much larger amount of capital to carry on its business than the average mercantile establishment. The mercantile establishment requires a capital ranging from 1/10th to 1/2 of the total volume of annual sales. For example, a store with $1,000,000 capital can do from $2,000,000 to $10,000,000 of business annually or to use a common expression it can turn its capital 2 to 10 times per year. This means that a profit of 6% on the volume of business means from 12% to 60% profit on the capital.

Now turn to the Gas and Electric Company with a capital of $1,000,000. Instead of doing from 2 to 10 times the annual business, it will, in the average case, not be able to do more than $200,000 or $300,000 annual business which is only 1/10th to 1/50th as much business on the same capital as its merchandising contemporary. In other words, instead of turning its capital from 2 to 10 times a year it does not turn it but once in 4 or 5 years. The result of this is that there must be a broad margin between gross receipts and operating costs in order to pay a fair return on the money required to carry on this business and it is a misunderstanding on the part of the public regarding this feature of the business which is responsible for much of the feeling that Public Utilities make too high a profit.

Probably you think we do a million dollars' worth of business a year. This is what we have done for 6 years past:

Year	Gross Gas	Gross Electric	Total Gross
1912	$ 97,353.41	$ 97,216.15	$194,569.56
1913	105,032.92	111,742.58	216,775.50
1914	109,181.73	126,289.01	235,470.74
1915	108,701.51	135,300.14	244,001.65
1916	114,612.95	146,413.42	261,026.37
1917	126,641.09	170,583.40	297,024.49

During these same years the surplus available for dividends on capital stock has been as follows:

Year	Amount	% Dividend
1912	$ 2,037.64	.29
1913	9,944.07	1.42
1914	7,923.10	1.13
1915	19,082.60	2.76
1916	24,845.34	3.54
1917	22,856.02	3.26
1918	Shows a deficit.

Do you think that dividends ranging from 1/4 of 1% to 3 3/4% maximum are excessive? We had hoped that the years 1915 to 1917 would show better returns, but the tax table published a few days ago showed where some of our expected "surplus" went and some more of it in gradually increasing costs as were shown by last night's figures in the "Freeman" and this morning's "Leader."

We have published these figures to meet the thoughts of some of our friends that "because we did not ask for an increase in Electric Rates that we must be making a lot of money on the Electric Department." We make the statement that we did not ask for consideration of Electric Rates because they do not result in a loss and still are not earning full allowable return.

Now, note this: "If the Public Service Commission deems it proper that any surplus in the Electric Department should be credited to the Gas Department we not only must abide by their ruling but will be governed accordingly."

Can we do more than this to offset any doubts in your mind of our sincerity in this case?

In compliance with the order of the War Industries Board, The Freeman will not be published on Labor Day.

A thorough job is so insistently demanded because, as has been pointed out, the only choice is to lick the Kaiser or lick his boots.

Wonder if General Bernhardt still preaches that war is "beautiful" now that he is on the run and knows of the many sound thrashings his associates have received.

After creating a desert in northern France the Germans are now fertilizing it with their own dead. Seldom has retributive justice arrived in so terrible a form.

When Marshal Foch says "everything is going well" he says as much as we could expect or desire, for the really great commander is never a boaster.

Senator Lodge is quite right and no doubt voices the general conviction when he says that a peace dictated by the Allies is the only acceptable kind because that alone can provide security.

The announcement that Bolshevik Russia had declared war on the United States received about as much attention as the last report of the sinking of one of our fishing boats by a U-boat. The Bolshevik servants of Germany are important only at Berlin.

Rats desert a sinking ship. The neutrals formerly betting on Germany have reconsidered since July 18. In consequence submissive Spain has plucked up courage and Sweden has signed a treaty favorable to the Allies. Even Mexico has climbed down and modified its oil decrees to suit the taste of the United States and Great Britain.

Austria's appeal for subscriptions to an eighth war loan promises to distribute among subscribers "an immense loot somewhere on the eastern front." No doubt the Teutonic aggressors have wrested immense loot from the countries they have trodden down; but loan subscribers who fondly imagine that they will get any of it are likely to be bitterly disappointed.

GASOLINE AND SUNDAY.

The kind of people who immediately, without a moment of thought, raised a calamity howl when the coalless Mondays were announced last Winter, only to be quietly rebuked by the cheerful compliance of an overwhelming majority of patriotic citizens, are now raising the same kind of a howl over the gasolineless Sundays that the Fuel Administrator has requested. The same arguments and criticisms are being advanced, apparently by the same people, and for the evident purpose of inciting a class feeling. They look only on the darkest side, never stopping to consider how much worse matters might be. For instance, if an attempt were made to restrict the use of gasoline by imposing a high tax on it, as many of these who oppose the Sunday saving request advocate, there would be a very real distinction made against the poor. The wealthy and reckless, who are now being pictured as the favored ones because they can drive their cars on any day of the week while those who work have only Sunday for recreation, would be on using as much gasoline as ever, while to the wage-earners an excessive increase in cost would be prohibitory.

The only thing the Fuel Administrator asks is that for one day in the week, when business demands are lowest, people refrain from running motor cars or boats except in case of certain emergencies that are specified in the request. What the Fuel Administrator asks us to do on one day in the week is only what France has been doing every day in the week for at least four years. It is not a novelty, but a pleasure that we are asked to forego in order to help ourselves and our allies to win the war. The gasoline shortage continues some system of rationing will be devised that will be more intricate and cumbersome than gas-less Sundays and that will work out with more exact justice to all. Until that is done it will harm none of us to forego our Sunday ride around the Ashokan dam, thereby saving gasoline for the winning of the war and saving our money to buy Liberty Loan Bonds, also for the winning of the war. It is a very weak kind of patriotism that cannot withstand this strain cheerfully and without grumbling and picking flaws in the method pursued in order to attain a very important end.

LITTLE LAUGHS.

"Why did your wife leave you?"
"Forsooth, I guess. She was a cook before I married her."—Boston Transcript.

"He proved himself a young man of remarkable erudition." "Yes?"
"He filled out both his questionnaire and his income tax blank without assistance."—Buffalo Express.

"Things average up in the long run," said the philosopher. "Yes," replied the busy man; "it is going to take a great many shirkless days to make up for these workless days."—Washington Star.

"Here's a question I'd like to propound," remarked the Observer of Events and Things: "Does a bow-legged soldier become knock-kneed when he faces the enemy for the first time?"—Yonkers Statesman.

"I told Henrietta that I was proud to see her vote just like a man," said Mr. Meekton. "Did that please her?"
"No. The choice of the phrase was unfortunate. She said that if she couldn't vote better than a man there would have been no need of her troubling about the ballot in the first place."—Washington Star.

Nothing Common for Him.

A young minister just out of the seminary was preaching his trial sermon in a village church. He was very positive, repeating several times: "I am correct, though all the commentators disagree with me."
That evening just as the young preacher arose to read the Scripture an old lady entered the door and looking up into the young minister's face as she handed him a market basket carefully covered, said: "Brother, I have you this morning that all common livers disagree with you. I have brought you a basket of yellow yams which I hope you can eat without getting sick."—Ladies' Home Journal.

The Sailor's Joke.

Admiral Bradley Fiske, the brilliant naval strategist and inventor, told a sea story at a Washington banquet.

"Sailors have a strong sense of humor," he said. "A certain young sailor was just back from a nine-month cruise. He celebrated his return in a great many bars, and when the last bar closed he danced joyfully down the street with all his pockets filled with bottles of beer, and waving a bottle of beer in either hand above his head."

"Boys," he said, "it's disgraceful what I'm going to say for a sailor, but it's the gospel truth—I have a horror of water!"—Exchange.

Natural Question.

The American in England affords matter for much perplexity and astonishment to his English kinsmen. A Yankee soldier was being shown over an old church wherein hundreds of people were buried.

"A great many people sleep between these walls," said the guide, indicating the inscription covered floor with a sweep of his hand.

"So," said the Tommy. "Same way over in our country. Why don't you get a more interesting preacher?"—Exchange.

Early Training.

Condors and Ronders, both being the fathers of growing families, discussed the rearing and upbringing of children.

"Yes, yes," said Condor very gravely. "A great deal depends on the formation of early habits."

"I know it," said Ronders with a dry little smile. "When I was a baby my mother hired a woman to whom I am about, and I've been pushed for money ever since."—Exchange.

BEWARE!

Edward Schoeneck

On account of his activities in the Tolishus Case should not be nominated on our ticket. Tolishus has since been indicted on six counts for seditious utterances.

"It is impossible to believe that there will be on the Republican ticket, a single nomination to which the shadow of a suspicion of disloyalty or disloyal associations can attach."—New York Times editorial, July 18th.

The way to prevent his nomination and the probable defeat of the whole ticket is to VICTORY MENUS.

These menus, planned to conserve time, labor and money, to save the foods that are scarce and use those of which there is an abundance, are Victory Menus in more senses than one. They are prepared by the Department of Home Economics of the State College of Agriculture and endorsed by the New York State Food Commission.

Sunday.

Breakfast—Cantaloupes; rolled oats with milk; cereal muffins; poached eggs; coffee.
Dinner—Roast beef; creamed corn; corn on cob; chocolate ice pudding.
Supper—Raisin and peanut salad; brown bread; butter; cocoa; barley cake; sliced peaches.

"May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal."
Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

Drought conditions in the south-west are forcing cattle raisers to dispose immediately of their stock, and on that account, the restrictions on beef have been temporarily lifted. The housewife is urged, however, to buy only the light weight cuts. The general policy of conservation of all meat is still encouraged in order to safeguard the future.

Our wheat granaries are in the same condition as Mother Hubbard's. The bumper crop of 1918, if used with great care will feed our soldiers, our Allies, and leave a margin for re-planting which is essential, but only if we go on with our program of saving. Every family in America should have wheat through the coming year, by are springing up rapidly to handle some corn bread or other breads the large quantities of products from bread or by making potatoes take the place of bread.

Lemon Whey Dessert.

One cup whey, strained, 2 egg yolks, 2/3 cup syrup, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, salt, 1 tablespoon fat, 1 lemon, juice and grated rind.

Mix the syrup, salt and cornstarch and add them to the boiling whey. Cook the mixture until it is thick and has no taste of raw starch. Add the beaten egg yolks, the fat, and the lemon juice and rind. Cook until the egg yolks have thickened and the mixture is clear.

Buckwheat and Nut Bread.

Two cups graham flour, 2 cups buckwheat flour, 2 tablespoons baking powder, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1-3/4 cup corn syrup or molasses, 1 egg, 2 1/2 cups milk, 1 cup nuts, (or raisins).

Mix and sift the dry ingredients, and add the liquids. Pour the mixture into greased pans and let it stand for 20 minutes in a warm place. Bake it for one hour in a very slow oven.

Lunch or Supper.

Peanut loaf with tomato sauce, Creamed potatoes, Wheatless bread, Fresh peaches with maple sugar and cream.

Dinner.

Baked fish with parsley and lemon garnish. Boiled potatoes, Cucumber salad, Custard pie.

"May be omitted and still leave a balanced meal."

Milk for the children to drink at each meal.

The man who made peanuts popular in this country died recently. A half century ago he had to force the peanut on the market and break down popular prejudice against it. Peanuts are now ceasing to be an unnecessary food and are entering the ranks of meat-savers because of their high protein and fat contents. Peanuts are becoming one of the big southern crops because of the demand for them.

Barley and Oat Bread (2 Small Loaves).

Two cups barley flour, 1 1/2 cups oat flour, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons salt, 1 tablespoon corn syrup, 1 cake compressed yeast, 1/4 cup lukewarm water.

Soften the yeast in the lukewarm water. Scald the milk, add the syrup and salt. When it becomes lukewarm, add the yeast and 1 1/2 cups barley flour and all the oat flour, sifted. Beat the dough and let it rise until it is light. Add the remaining 1/2 cup of barley flour, and turn the dough into greased pans. Let it rise for 20 or 30 minutes, until it rounds somewhat over the top. Bake the bread in a slow oven from 1 to 1 1/2 hours.

Corn Fritters.

One can corn, 1-3/8 cups barley flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 2 eggs.

Chop the corn, drain, and add the dry ingredients, mixed and sifted, then add the yolks of eggs-beaten until thick, and fold in whites of eggs beaten stiff. Cook in a frying-pan in fresh hot lard. Drain on paper.

NEW CANNING RECORD.

All Signs Point To Success Of National Campaign.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 31.—The home canning army is going over the top! Every indication points to making the 1,500,000,000 quart goal set for this summer's objective.

Reports from the manufacturers of canning supplies who are conforming to recommendations of the United States Department of Agriculture, show a considerable increase in the output of equipment that saves time and labor in home canning. A 50 per cent increase is indicated this year in the number of firms that manufacture canning supplies and an average increase of 25 per cent in the quantity of equipment sold. Makers of standard quality rubber rings report a 300 per cent greater demand for their products since last year, which indicates the housekeepers' growing appreciation of the importance of good rings, and means an ultimate reduction in spoilage.

Over 125 business concerns of various kinds have published the Department of Agriculture's instructions on home canning for free distribution to their customers and employees. The 19 different languages by which agencies outside the department, are reaching the foreign-speaking families in nearly every state in the at least one meal a day without union. Community canning kitchens, wheat through the coming year, by are springing up rapidly to handle some corn bread or other breads the large quantities of products from bread or by making potatoes take the place of bread.

OUR BOYS' AGAIN IN PORT EWEN

On Wednesday evening, September 4th, at Pythian Hall, Port Ewen, a patriotic demonstration will take place, and 32 screen pictures will be shown of the boys of the village and of four or five other villages in the town of Esopus. There will also be an illustrated lecture on "Our Soldier Boys in France," 60 government slides, showing just what our boys do "over there."

The Rev. Leonard Appleboorn, pastor of the Reformed Church of the village, will offer the invocation, and the Rev. Eugene Bookhout of the M. E. Church, will give the benediction. George Propstetter may deliver a patriotic address, entitled "Woman in the War." The Liberty Hope Choir will sing patriotic songs with the audience, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. John U. Gillette.

There will be a silver collection taken for the particular purpose of reimbursing Mr. Propstetter for the cost of the 60 official slides used in the above lecture. All are welcome to come. All can help in more ways than one, since the Red Cross will receive all money over the amount necessary to pay for these slides.

WHY DO BABIES DIE?

We publish today the second of a series of six articles on the subject of child welfare, which deal particularly with the large number of needless deaths among infants and young children and with methods for decreasing the number of such deaths.

The year beginning April 6 (the anniversary of our entrance into the world war) has been designated by the Children's Bureau of the United States Department of Labor as the Children's Year.

The articles represent a part of the campaign which the State Department of Health is undertaking in co-operation with the Federal Government for the conservation of child life.

The Division of Child Hygiene of the State Department of Health, Albany, is ready to answer any questions on the subject of Child Welfare which may occur to our readers.

THE EDITOR.

The term infant mortality means the ratio between the number of babies who die during the first year of life and one thousand living births. For example, if ten babies under twelve months of age died in four town last year and fifty babies were born the infant mortality rate would be 20 per cent., or 200 per 1,000 living births. This would be a very high rate.

In New York city in 1884 the infant mortality rate was 270 per thousand, but as a result of child welfare activities by the city and by individuals this was reduced to 89 per thousand in 1917. The infant death rate in New Zealand in 1915 was only 50 per thousand, but in that country the government has for many years given much attention and spent much money for its youngest citizens. It is possible to very materially reduce the mortality rate, or, in plainer words, to save babies. There were 108,580 babies born in New York state, outside of New York city in 1916 and 9,912 babies died. If the New Zealand rate had existed only about 5,200 babies would have died.

The causes of the high death rate are many and varied. One-third of the deaths under one year occur in the first four weeks of life and are due usually to causes affecting the mother before the birth of the baby.

The employment of married women in factories, stores, etc., up to the time of their confinement affects the strength and vitality of their babies who, when born, are too weak to live.

Improper, ignorant or unskillful care when the baby comes also results in many unnecessary deaths. Remember, too, that healthy parents are the first essential of healthy children. Children born of syphilis, tuberculosis or alcoholic parents have little chance of growing up with healthy bodies.

After the baby comes, ignorance of the mother as to proper feeding and clothing causes much needless sacrifice of life.

Poverty, by forcing people to live in crowded insanitary dwellings, is a very large factor. It is also a large factor because it forces mothers to work, thereby preventing breast feeding of their infants.

About a third of the deaths among infants occur during the summer months and are largely preventable. Heat and humidity lower the resistance of the baby and make him more susceptible to disease from impure and infected milk and from overcrowding and other insanitary conditions.

The motto of the New York State Department of Health is "Public Health is Purchasable. Within Natural Limitations Any Community Can Determine Its Own Death Rate." This is especially applicable to infant mortality. Babies can be saved, but it is largely a matter of dollars and cents and we cannot afford to neglect our babies. Doctor Holt asks, "Does God fix the death rate?" Once seen were taught so, and death was regarded as an act of Divine Providence, often inevitable. We believe that Providence works through human agencies, and that in this God, as in others, we reap what we sow—no more and no less.

WHY BROWN HIT HIS STEP FATHER

Claims That Step-father Struck Mrs. Brown And Then Husband Took a Hand—Attorney Flanagan Thought Shufeldt Without Jurisdiction.

Wednesday night Merritt Brown placed his step-father, Harry Reynolds, of Ten Broeck avenue, under arrest and turned him over to a police officer on a charge of assault in the third degree. Thursday morning the case was adjourned until this morning as Mr. Reynolds wanted a chance to secure a lawyer. He entered a plea of not guilty to the charge.

Mr. Brown claimed that the reason he arrested his step-father was due to the fact that while Brown and his wife were at the Reynolds home Reynolds struck his wife twice. Then Brown took a hand and struck Reynolds.

This morning Reynolds was represented by Attorney Chris J. Flanagan, who moved to dismiss the complaint on the ground that Acting Judge Shufeldt had no jurisdiction to sit. The motion was denied. He asked for an adjournment to secure a witness who came over the Rhinebeck ferry Friday evening with City Judge Schirick, who has been in New York city on business. Attorney Flanagan contended that if Judge Schirick came back to town Thursday he resumed his duties as city judge.

Judge Shufeldt informed Attorney Flanagan that he had no knowledge of Judge Schirick being in Kingston, and that under the charter provisions he had been appointed to serve in the absence of the city judge from the city.

Attorney Flanagan then asked for an adjournment so that his client could secure a needed witness. This was granted and the trial was adjourned to Wednesday evening of next week.

The bail bond furnished by Reynolds when arrested was continued.

SOCIETY NOTES.

Warner-Conklin.

Miss Gladys Conklin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Conklin of Walden, was united in marriage to Robert D. Warner, son of Charles Warner of Walkkill, on Monday evening, August 26, at 6:30, at the Reformed parsonage, Walden, by the Rev. Theodore E. Bayles. They were attended by Miss Edith A. Warner of Middletown, a cousin of the groom, and Arthur D. Terrell of Walkkill.

Hart-Bishop.

A very pretty quiet home wedding took place at the residence of Mrs. Elizabeth Bishop, 97 Downs street, August 28, at 4:30 p. m., when her daughter, Ethel Delight, was given in marriage to Stephen H. Hart, of Fall River, Mass. They were united in marriage by the Rev. George M. Cranston. The only attendant of the bride was her sister, Mrs. Harvey J. Davis, who was married on, honor. The bridegroom's attendant was his brother, Clifford Hart, of Fall River, Mass. After an extended trip through the New England States on their honeymoon, they will return to Irvington-on-the-Hudson, where a newly furnished home await them.

Cruger-Sanford.

Charles E. Cruger, of No. 181 Main street, Poughkeepsie, and Miss Marie R. Sanford, of No. 114 Pearl street, this city, were united in marriage with a nuptial mass this morning in St. Augustine's Church at Ossining. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William A. Cashin, a cousin of the groom. Both young people are well-known and have a host of friends who wish them a long and prosperous married life. Mr. Cruger until June was affiliated with the J. G. White Company and located in this city. He is a draughtsman and civil engineer, and resigned to accept a more responsible position with the Wappingers Falls Company. Mrs. Cruger was connected with the L. B. Van Wagenen Company on Wall street as one of the buyers. They will spend their honeymoon at the seashore and upon their return will make their home temporarily at No. 275 Church street, Poughkeepsie.

ODDS AND ENDS.

There will be no sewing at Red Cross Headquarters Monday.

The Rev. V. D. Matfice will occupy the pulpit of the Reformed Church at Flatbush on Sunday.

Rescue Hook and Ladder Company will have their annual clambake on Linderman avenue on Sunday, September 3.

LOCAL DEATH RECORD.

Recent Deaths and Funerals of Persons in This Vicinity.

Rudolph, infant son of John and Emma Thurston, died Friday evening at the family residence in Port Ewen. The funeral was held this afternoon, with interment in St. Peter's Cemetery, this city.

Ula Kelsey, wife of Augustus Dyer, formerly of Phoenicia, died at her home, No. 209 Abel street, Friday night, aged 38 years. Funeral Monday at 10 o'clock from No. 140 Broadway. Interment in Phoenicia Cemetery. She is survived by four children and her father, Erasmus Kelsey, of Phoenicia.

The funeral of Mrs. Hugh Donaldson, who died at the home at 137 Green street on Friday, will be held from her late residence Monday morning at 8:45 o'clock. St. Joseph's Church 9 o'clock. High mass of requiem will be offered for the repose of her soul. Interment at St. Ann's Cemetery, Sawkill.

UNDERNEATH THE CITY HALL DOME

The difference between a position and a job was defined this morning by a visitor at the city hall while talking with Officer Reardon, who was on duty at police headquarters. According to the visitor a position is a little work with lots of time to do it, while a job is lots of work with little time to do it.

There is a big thirty pound iron ball that reposes just outside the lower entrance to the city hall leading to police headquarters and the officers on duty at the hall keep their muscles in trim by throwing the ball or putting the shot, as it is called. Sergeant Haney, who is acting chief during the absence of Chief Wood on his vacation, holds the official record hurling the thirty pound ball a distance of twenty-two feet with one hand. Sergeant Phinney is a close second, with a toss of a little over twenty feet.

It is simply an indication that our local police force is composed of a bunch of husky men, and that is one reason why there is so little strong arm crime in Kingston. The other men of the force claim, however, that the reason the two sergeants can toss the shot a trifle further than they can is due to the fact that they have done more exercise in their war gardens.

City Clerk Doremus is kept busy the past few days getting ready for the primary to be held Tuesday. The booths in the various polling places have been erected and the election supplies were delivered at the city hall this morning.

At the primary this year only the inspectors act. The Democratic city committee filed a list of ballot and poll clerks in addition to the inspectors, but only the inspectors will serve.

Labor Day will be observed by every department in the city hall with the exception of the police department. The only time the cops don't work is the two weeks each year they get as a vacation.

Hasbrouck avenue hill is being paved with granite blocks by the street force. Superintendent Van Keuren has been handicapped by the fact that it has been impossible to get enough men to push the work through as fast as he expected.

There is no trouble getting a job these days in Kingston, and consequently there is no excuse for any one evading the loafer law by not working. Never in the history of Kingston was there such a demand for men and never were such good wages paid as at the present time.

ABOUT THE FOLK.

Thomas Hyland, of Cornwall is spending a few days in this city.

HAROLD J. HINMAN, as Member of Assembly, voted Against the Child's Welfare and Widows' Pension Law—Being one of Only Eight Assemblymen to do so.

HAROLD J. HINMAN is the candidate of Two Men—WILLIAM BARNES of New York City and Albany and LYNN J. ARNOLD, his Law Partner and Editor of the Knickerbocker Press.

Which Man is Best Fitted to Sit in Judgment Upon Your Personal and Property Rights?

You Must Choose Between These Records at the Primary Election Tuesday, September 3rd, 1918.

GEORGE ADDINGTON IS NUMBER 16 ON THE PRIMARY BALLOT

Mayor Canfield received a long telegram from the Knickerbocker Press last night asking that he state his present position on the contest between George Addington, County Judge of Albany County, and Harold J. Hinman. Judge Arnold, President of the Press Company, is a partner of Mr. Hinman and the Knickerbocker Press is supporting the latter. Mayor Canfield sent the following reply:

Editor The Knickerbocker Press:

In reply to your communication of this date I would state that I am supporting George Addington for the nomination for Justice of the Supreme Court.

I have known Judge Addington very well for several years.

He is a man of sterling excellence and fine character.

He possesses a kindly and altruistic spirit with an underlying firmness and strength.

He possesses a wide understanding of the law and a keen perception of justice.

He patiently and meritoriously traveled the steps of judicial advancement from City Judge to District Attorney, to County Judge and to the step where he should don the robe of Supreme Court Justice.

He has qualified himself admirably by exceptional and valuable experience as a judicial officer. He is a man of judicial dignity and force, with a well-governed mind, and would fit the environments of a Supreme Court Justice.

He has always had a large circle of friends which is satisfactory proof that he has always been regardless of the interests of others.

He has given himself without stint to constructive and humane measures and activities.

He has thrown himself into the war work in a brimming tide of energy, and has fired the spirit of many people with a ringing patriotism, and has given a new impetus to Americanism in the Capital District.

There is reason to give due recognition to the determination of a convention, representative of the voters and the people, although there are those who are as unstable as water on the proposition of primaries and conventions.

In this case, however, the nomination was conceded to Albany County, and the designation made was the action of a very few men, or a lesser number, from Albany. Therefore, this so-called convention cannot be regarded as finally binding upon even anyone claiming regularity.

You mention misrepresentation of facts in your communication. It appears to me as one who has been a supporter of your paper, that anyone who states and repeatedly states that the designation made was the unanimous vote of two delegates from each Assembly District in the seven counties comprising this judicial convention, unintentionally or otherwise, misrepresents the facts.

The two Assembly Districts of Ulster County were not represented. Any representation from other counties merely said "Amen" to the vote of the representatives of Albany County.

If there is any misrepresentation it would appear to me to be playing in both corners. If there is a distinction, it is without a difference.

I know that Judge Addington would prefer to lose the nomination than to gain it unworthily or win it unfairly.

I know that he would prefer to remain County Judge Addington possessing the incomparable asset of the honor of his fellow men, than to become Supreme Court Justice Addington with a compromise to honor.

In the rough jostle of our selfish existence, sometimes only a narrow and a biased scrutiny is given certain acts which robs the act of proper intent.

When personal interest prevails, sometimes a fair critic becomes otherwise and gives more attention to a certain act that it justifies to serve his interest and attain his end.

It would be an absurdity for anyone to state that Judge Addington's friends, in the literature sent out by them in his behalf, did so with a wrong motive or evil impulse.

They quoted such part that had a bearing upon the favor of Judge Addington's candidacy with the people. They cited such part which related to the important question and the pertinent question of who is the choice of the people.

The part not quoted consisted of independent thoughts dissociated, if not by punctuation, by relevancy to the point in question. The part in reference to the Surrogateship was foreign to the point. The opinion of your paper as to Judge Addington being favored by the people of the district and the opinion of your paper as to the domination of the judicial situation by the distinguished leader of Albany County are unalloyed to each other.

Perhaps it would have been wiser for Judge Addington's friends to have quoted it all. Likewise it might be wise for anyone making capital of the designation secured at the judicial convention to represent it in its true light.

I know Judge Addington. He is not capable of petty misrepresentations for personal advantage. He is worthy of respect and honor. He commends himself to the judgment of thinking men.

These statements are made at your instance and request, and without and reflection upon his opponent in the primaries.

Respectfully,
PALMER CANFIELD, JR.

SIX RYAN BROTHERS WILL SOON BE IN SERVICE OF COUNTRY

St. Remy Family Has Three Already in the Army, a Fourth to Go in September and Two to Register Under New Law—Duty Cheerfully Performed.

JOHN RYAN, JR.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN RYAN.

PHILIP RYAN.

JOSEPH RYAN.

WILLIAM RYAN.

EUGENE RYAN.

PETER RYAN.

Three sons now in the service, a fourth to go in September and two more to register when the new conscription law goes into effect. That is the record of the Ryan family, of St. Remy.

And not a complaint to make. On the contrary, only a feeling of pride and satisfaction in being able to serve the country to such an unusual extent for one family.

"I thought they might leave me one of my boys, if they are to take the other five," said the mother speaking dispassionately and quietly. "We really need one who can help my husband support our large family."

This family's war record when completed challenges comparison at least in this section. The roster stands as follows:

John Ryan, 59, and his wife, Margaret, 51, the daughter of Joseph Jacoby, deceased, and his widow, Margaret, 92, living at Riffon, have been wedded more than the thirty years they resided on the farm they sold to Dr. F. J. Dudenhausen, who owns and occupies it. They are living in a two story frame residence in the center of St. Remy. The Jacobys were German born. Margaret, their daughter, was born in Riffon. She has no use for Germany and never had any. Her husband is employed on the H. A. Keller estate known as the Hasbrouck homestead.

The sons of John and Margaret Ryan:

Philip, 29, drafted from the rifle company June 18, '18, at Ilion, N. Y. New overseas on route, private in Co. I, 348th Infantry, 87th Division, American Expeditionary Forces.

Joseph, 26, drafted from a carpet mill April 29, '18, at Auburn, N. Y. In guard service at South Amboy, N. J.

John, 24, drafted from Amsterdam, N. Y., where he was called from employment he had obtained in Col. Paine's estate. Esopus, April 23, '18. In the Quartermaster's department at Camp Merritt.

William, 21, in Class 1, accepted and expecting to go with Division 2 contingent in September; works in Kingston Ship building Company's yard on ships constructed by the government.

Peter, 20, graduated from Kingston High School, June, 1918; now working in some ship yard.

Eugene, 18, in October, '18, graduated at the Kingston High School in June, '18, the only one of eight male adults in that family who is now giving his time at home helping around the house and garden in St. Remy. And still there are other children in this family, four of whom, from about 6 to 12 years of age.

This makes a family which only in one town could have broken up as it has for induction in the service, and one family, father and son, who have been separated for so long a time.

In an Amsterdam called mill and where, in France, He is 23 years old, three little girls at home, another daughter, another son, and four daughters.

The disappointment in this town, months after his two most younger more deeply than the call to war is June.

The change of plan for the education of the two boys who are included in draft and since the age was extended.

"All of the six boys with Eugene the youngest included, were brought up on the farm," said Mrs. Ryan. "The four oldest always worked. It was our aim to educate Peter and Eugene. Graduated at the Kingston High School in June, 1918, and he was sent them to the Service and of them can I expect for the service."

Philip, the third to go, the oldest and attend the St. Remy school. One of seven children, while home Aug.

daughter is employed in a carpet mill at Amsterdam, N. Y.

Seated on the porch of her house in St. Remy, Mrs. Ryan declared that the government has the supreme right to the service, "even the sacrifice," she said—if need be—of all its young men. She recognized it a duty resting on her own boys and promptly when called on. Her own parents were German born. But she has a perfect hatred of her country's enemies. She was born in Riffon. She said that she has no use for Germany and never had.

"I am proud that my boys are willing to go and that they respond to the demands of the government with ardor. They write me not to worry for them. I do not worry, for who can tell what is to become of any of us in war or out of war?"

She has one favorite, and she would like to keep him with her. Perhaps she may. Maybe the government will think he is worth more on the Island Dock shipyard where he is now working. Peter is like the others who were ready before the government called on them. Peter is 20 and under the new law where he may be classed he may not be reached. After the sorrow she had when good byes were said, she has once more to face that same trial of separation, when William, her fourth son, will go next month. William is in class one and has been accepted.

Then when she looked to Peter who helps the family so much with the wages he brings from the Island Dock shipyard, and told him that she hoped the government would leave her one out of six boys, he said in an earnest manner:

"Don't worry, mother. I'm not troubled at all about it. You are thinking only that I will not return. There are dangers here as well as in war. Supposing that that day I had been thrown from the scaffolding? Those things happen often, mother."

Peter referred to his narrow escape while at work in the shipyard when his shirt was torn off from him on being caught in the sawed of a boring machine where he was working on high scaffolding.

Mother Deprived of Last Farewell.

Her sufferings has been manifold, as she pointed out. With each separation came a heart pang. Then she pulled herself together and drew on her store of courage with a prayer on her lips. First, two boys went to Camp Merritt, in the same call, April 29, last. Joseph, 26 drafted at Amsterdam, N. Y., working as a weaver in a carpet mill; John, 24, who had to go to Amsterdam, N. Y., in response to the call of the local board there.

And it was for her a greater sorrow when Philip, the third to go, the oldest and attend the St. Remy school. One of seven children, while home Aug.

ust 23 that his command was going over. The address he sent is "Co. I, 348th Infantry, 87th Division, A. E. F., via New York."

Joseph is on guard duty at South Amboy, N. J., and John is in the Quartermaster's service at Camp Merritt. They are expected to go over any time.

Not only the great privilege of mothering four boys going to war is this remarkable woman's just claim to her country's thanks and a medal if one could be given. Her firmness, her common sense view of her own duty on a party with that of her sons', her reasoning, show the attributes of a true patriotic mother.

A well preserved woman, physically matured and in excellent condition, she does not show her 51 years in age. Her eyes are bright, her complexion healthful, her intelligence well balanced. She is a typical matron who talks in clear, measured tones. Not comely but pleasing to face and talk with. Many may wonder how deep are the relations of this mother and her sons. Can she miss them, one or all, as a mother with only one son?

Their acquaintances and friends declare that this family is welded together in the deepest affection. "There is never any bickering heard in that family," said Postmaster Devo of St. Remy. "It is frequently remarked here that there is never known to have been any dissensions among them. The boys are notably devoted to their mother. When they were at home working in Dimick's carpet mill they took turns by weeks settling regularly the bills for family supplies. There can be no greater sacrifice than the mother's gift to her country of six sons as affectionately devoted to her as are the Ryan boys to their highly worthy mother."

Mrs. Ryan is a devout Catholic. Her family are worshippers in the Church of the Sacred Heart at Eddyville.

Hans Chained to Guns.

By Telegram to The Freeman.
Fond Du Lac, Wis., Aug. 31.—"The men were chained to their machine guns so they could not run away from them and the snipers were chained to trees," writes Robert H. Barton, of Company B, 150th Machine Gun Battalion, formerly Company E, of this city, telling of an attack made by his company against a German position. He says that the Rainbow Division broke up four Teuton Divisions in the fight.

HEACOCK A Candidate

"Seth G. Heacock of Ilion, former State Senator from Herkimer County, is in the race for nomination as the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Schoenbeck of Syracuse, having eliminated himself from consideration through a transaction in Syracuse recently in connection with the vote of the Federal grand jury in the case of a young lawyer accused of seditious talk, leaves the place on the ticket open to some other nominee. Senator Heacock would bring considerable strength to the ticket. Indeed, he might better be at its head than Governor Whitman, for he is a man with broad experience in State affairs, and besides that he is a particularly well informed man."—The Utica Observer, Editorial.
